

GREG FOX

I am an accomplished Professional with over 20 years of experience in successfully managing the design & delivery of commercial projects across multiple sectors. I've worked in Sydney, Melbourne, Brisbane, Perth, Adelaide and also in the UK.

I possess sound technical knowledge in construction techniques, sequencing & programming as well as the commercial side of contracts, administration & financial reporting. I'm very effective in managing stakeholders, consultants & contractors and also working closely with my clients to achieve their project goals.

I am an excellent communicator, with strong interpersonal skills who strives working in a project team environment to deliver Win / Win outcomes for all stakeholders. Leadership, Trust & Respecting others are key attributes of my management style.

I'm very passionate about becoming involved in the early stages of a project & being able to influence the best value outcomes through being smart, strategic and diligent. I have developed a strong network of designers, consultants & contractors and understand how to match the right team to suit each individual projects needs. I have highly effective planning skills, and working through the right briefing, design & procurement processes efficiently.

EARLY INDUSTRY EXPERIENCE

1997 - 2003

I commenced working in the construction industry in 1997 on a part time basis, whilst I studied at University. Initially as builders labourer / carpenter for CJ Brunt Constructions and then as a Site Clerk for Masterton Homes at the Olympic Village at Homebush.

In 1999 I started working fulltime during the 'Pre Olympics' Boom. Initially deferring my studies before completing my degree part time via correspondence.

After graduating I continued working for Built, getting 5 years of experience under my belt (Foreman, Contract Administrator, Estimator, Site Manager & Project Engineer Roles), before heading over to London on a 2 year working visa.
